Dear Norman,

Well, well, Here we are again! I really enjoyed those clippings.

How many Fall Tales do you know? Know what I mean? (Refers to how mean you can get.)

What have you been doing during your four day vacation this week? I hope not working too hard.

Our class has really been lucky lately. Last week Sister Huberta's mother died. She went away. A lady of the parish taught us. All week we got away with murder. We had one show, had art all day one day, watched Highschool Band march all morning, had our books open for few lessons we had, ate candy, and who knows what else. It isn't every day we can do that.

If it is not to personal, how real good. Sen: that a shock to you?

In your last letter you asked me what I meant when I said my concern was a great help. I asked her what she meant when she said it and she said "just what I said" then she laughed and said "you know good and well what I meant." Are you sure you don't know what she meant? Don't answer that. (Ha-Ha-Ha)

How do you like your new home?
Do you think I'm very nosy today?
Do you still go to the same school?

I almost forgot to ask "How do you like our New President? Any- way he's almost our new president. I think the Electoral (Colly) College will vote for him. I finally figured out your code. Didn't it say (I don't like Ike)?

Can you figure this out?

The line (1) tells its a new word.

Last week we got our pictures taken in school. I want to go to the football game tonight. Our team has won all our games. If my writing is ugly its because I'm lying in bed. I went to church and then went back to bed.

A couple of days ago we got a letter from Jack + Bernie. It was sure interesting. If it interests you, you were mentioned in it.

Well I've got to close. I wouldn't ^{want} you to drink to much water and get sick.

Yours truly,
Pat
